	Examiner Flemming Saether	Art Unit 3677

-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 26 October 2004.
- 2a) ☒ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☐ This action is non-final.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 19-21 and 30-32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Keener (US 6,638,381). Keener discloses a titanium rivet (78) formed to have a grain structure between 5 to 10 microns (column 3, line 42). Since the claimed range and the disclosed range each include 5 microns and that the ranges are characterized by “about” and “approximately” the disclosure in Keener of “approximately 5-10” [italic added] reads on the claimed range.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 19-21 and 30-34 (some alternatively) are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Forrest (EP 1 162 283) in view of Keener (US 6,638,381). Forrest teaches the formation of a preferred grain of a size between 3 to 5 microns

Art Unit: 3677

(column 7, lines 39) in both aluminum and titanium (column 2, lines 24-29) stock materials by a friction stir process but, is not specific as to a rivet. Keener teaches the use of a friction stir process in the formation of a rivet. At the time the invention was made it would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art to use the process of Forrest to form a rivet in view of the teaching of Keener. The superior properties of the structural members as disclosed in Forrest would have been recognized as also applicable to rivets because rivets, particularly in the aircraft industry, would also benefit from increased operational life and weight reduction. The specific aluminum alloy as claimed is well known and would have been recognized depending upon the particular application of the rivet.

Response to Remarks

Applicant's remarks have been considered but are moot in view of the new grounds of rejection.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Applicant's submission of an information disclosure statement under 37 CFR 1.97(c) with the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(p) on 10 December 2004 prompted the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION

IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 609(B)(2)(i). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
